Parents rally against leaders who support kid's centre closures

• OCC leader Ian Hudspeth

MORE than 100 mums and dads have vowed not to vote in future elections for any councillors who support a decision to close children's centres.

They signed up in the two days since the pledge was launched by campaigners Save Oxfordshire's Children's Centres.

A new video filmed in Witney on Saturday raising awareness of the pledge was released alongside the pledge showing Witney residents speak out against the Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) cuts which threaten the centres.

A final vote on the budget which includes the cuts will be made by councillors on February 16 in a full council meeting at County Hall.

By Alex Ballinger

Witney mum-of-two Sasha Walton, who appeared in the video, said: "For me they've been a vital lifeline.

"They gave me confidence that I was bringing my son up in the right way.

"We were there Monday to Friday for the first three years of his life.

"I still go there every Wednesday with my daughter."

Mrs Walton, 46, uses Witney Children's Centre in Edington Road with her son Thomas, five, and daughter Katherine, two.

The Wilmot Close resident also said staff had better knowledge and understanding than those at a private centre.

The new #Pledge4Children campaign launched on Tuesday as OCC's cabinet met to discuss it's 2016/17 budget at County Hall in New Road, Oxford.

The cabinet voted the budget through to full council despite protests outside the building.

The group is calling on parents to 'pledge not to vote for any councillor in 2017 who voted for the closure of Oxfordshire's children's centres' by signing a card.

Those who sign will then be updated on how their councillors voted on the cuts.

Terror cops tracking Oxford man in Syria

By Alex Ballinger

COUNTER-TERRORISM police have confirmed they have been investigating a 20-year-old from Oxford since March 2015 after he travelled from the city to Syria.

But the parents of Jack Letts, who has been dubbed 'Jihadi Jack' by national media, say he travelled to Syria for humanitarian reasons and not to fight for so-called Islamic State.

Mr Letts hit the national headlines on Saturday after it was reported he was the first white British youth to travel to Syria to fight for the militant group.

A statement issued by Thames Valley Police on behalf of the South East Counter Terrorism Unit said: "The South East Counter Terrorism Unit is aware of recent reports in the media regarding a 20-year-old man from Oxford travelling to Syria and we can confirm we are investigating.

"This investigation began in March 2015 and is ongoing."

The statement continued: "We are unable to comment in any specifics regarding the investigation but would like to say that anyone who knows someone who may be vulnerable to being drawn into terrorist-related activity, including travelling abroad to conflict zones should contact local police for advice and support on 101."

Mr Letts, a Muslim convert and former pupil of Cherwell School told parents, John and Sally Letts from Grandpont, Oxford, he was travelling to Kuwait to study Arabic in September 2014, before secretly travelling to Syria.

He is suspected to be now living in Iraq.

Man cleared of raping woman in city centre

A 24-YEAR-OLD former homeless man was found not guilty on Monday of raping of a fellow rough sleeper.

Jed Francis, of Long Readings Lane in Slough, was cleared of two counts of rape by a jury after a trial at Oxford Crown Court.

The incident was alleged to have taken place in the early hours of the morning on March 28 last year outside Oxford Magistrates' Court in Speedwell Street.

The jury heard the woman was sleeping with Mr Francis and another rough sleeper in sleeping bags and under blankets on the ground outside the front doors of the magistrates' court.

The woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, said she had had sex with Mr Francis two weeks before the alleged offence.

She also said she had been having sex with the other man just before Mr Francis raped her.

Mr Francis claimed he and the victim had had sex two days before the alleged incident near Christ Church College.

Centre's opening

OXFORD: A new £4.7 million community centre will be officially opened to the public in Rose Hill on Saturday.

Rose Hill Community Centre in Ashhurst Way has a social club, 30-station gym, health club, police base and training kitchen.

It replaces the existing centre in The Oval and will be opened by Oxford's Lord Mayor Rae Humberstone.

Residents will have a chance to try out the new gym and take part in an over-50 fitness taster session amongst various other activities running between Midday and 4pm.

Christmas arrests

OXON: Incidents of drink and drug driving increased across the county over the Christmas period, police statistics have revealed.

Detailed figures published by Thames Valley Police yesterday showed there were 60 arrests for drink driving in Oxfordshire from December 1 to January 1 in 2014, while there were 74 in 2015.

Oxford city saw the biggest increase with nine incidents in 2014, rising to 23 incidents in 2015.

South Oxfordshire saw an increase of one, from 22 to 23, while Cherwell and West Oxfordshire saw a slight decrease from 29 to 28.

Innovation award

OXFORD: The city is one of nine shortlisted as finalists in the European Capital of Innovation Awards 2016.

The shortlist was announced on January 21 by the European Commission and includes Amsterdam, Berlin, Glasgow, Milan and Paris.

A total of €950,000 (around £722,000) prize money will be given to the city judged to be creating the best 'innovation ecosystem'.

One winner and two runners up are due to be announced in April.

Incense sparks fire in Abingdon home

FIREFIGHTERS were called to a serious fire in Abingdon on Tuesday believed to have been caused by an incense burner.

Two fire engines from Abingdon, one from Oxford and a specialist vehicle from Eynsham were called to Farm Road at around 10.50pm.

A neighbour raised the alarm after smelling smoke and hearing the smoke alarm.

The house was empty at the time and fire crews entered to property to extinguish the fire using hose reels and a pressure fan.

Incident commander WM Kerry said: "This could have been a lot worse.

"Had the property not had working smoke alarms the fire would have gone undetected for a significant amount of time resulting in even greater damage."

Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service had previously fitted this property with the smoke alarms.

The occupier arrived back at the house shortly after the fire service's arrival.

Significant damage was caused to the first floor of the house with smoke spreading to the adjoining property.

Daughter remembered by mum as a 'bundle of fun'

By Alex Ballinger

A 32-YEAR-OLD woman from Witney who suffered from bipolar disorder 'seemed much better' before she took her own life, her mum has said.

Samantha Ley was found dead at her home in Dale Walk, Ducklington, by her landlady on August 31 last year.

Miss Ley's mum Carolyn Ley last saw her daughter three days before her death and said she had just started to be social again.

She said: "Sam worked really hard. She just started being social again.

"I had lunch with her on the Friday and she was very positive.

"She was not down in any way.

"She seemed so much better."

An inquest into Miss Ley's death was held at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road, Oxford last Thursday.

The court heard how Miss Ley had taken an overdose in 2011 while visiting her partner in Spain.

In a statement read out during the inquest Miss Ley's mum said: "When she went to the doctor in Spain they prescribed her anti-depressants.

"She took an overdose of medication and drank alcohol."

Miss Ley started receiving treatment at Abingdon Mental Health Centre at Abingdon Community Hospital in Marcham Road from clinical psychologist Rachel Manser in 2011.

Ms Manser said: "Sam must have deteriorated very quickly before her death.

"I was very saddened to hear that she had died.

"Sam said she was pleased with the changes she had made but was worried the progress we'd made would not last. But by the end of our sessions Sam seemed much more positive."

"My sincerest condolences to her family."

She attended 11 sessions with Ms Manser between October 2014 and March 2015.

> "She was a thrill seeker, she was a bundle of fun"

Assistant coroner for Oxfordshire Nicholas Graham ruled Miss Ley's death as suicide.

He said: "I don't think it will come as a surprise that the short form conclusion is suicide."

He told her mum: "I realise its very difficult for you. You obviously played a very important role in supporting her during her very difficult times."

In her statement Ms Ley added: "She was a thrill seeker and this was something I think she used to help manage her condition. She was a bundle of fun."

Cabinet takes next step in budget cuts

OCC's budget includes plans to close Oxfordshire's 44 children's centres to replace them with six or eight larger children's hubs as part of £361million budget cuts.

The closures are set to save £8m over the next two years.

West Oxfordshire is home to six of the centres including Witney, Lawton Avenue in Carterton and The Ace Centre in Burford Road, Chipping Norton. Instead children's hubs would then be set up in Oxford (three), Banbury, Bicester, Abingdon Didcot, and one in Witney

Leader of OCC Ian Hudspeth said: "We had hoped our original savings options would be a worst-case scenario and that we would not therefore have to go ahead with them all.

"We are desperately sorry that we now have to consider these extensive savings.

"We will be doing everything we can to help communities manage the impact."

If the budget is voted through on February 16, it would be adopted in April.

Jill Huish, of Save Oxfordshire Children's Centres, said: "We want people's voices to be as loud as they can.

We've made it clear to them the value of children's centres. It's really important to keep universal services."

"We've got a really great response from Witney."

22-year-old not guilty of Didcot rape

A 22-YEAR-OLD man has been found not guilty of raping a 19-year-old woman at a house in Queensway, Didcot, in 2014.

Timothy Lee, of no fixed abode, was cleared of rape by a jury on Monday after a five-day trial at Oxford Crown Court (below).

The woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, told the court she had sat in the house for five hours after the alleged attack because she was too scared to leave.

Gareth James, defending, said: "He didn't pin you down and force you to have sex with him."

Mr Lee was cleared of two counts of rape and one count of assault causing actual bodily harm.

TV's Brian Cox marks grand college opening

By Alex Ballinger

PHYSICIST, TV personality and author Professor Brian Cox visited a Didcot college on Tuesday where he formally marked the opening of UTC Oxfordshire.

Professor Cox was given a tour of the state-of-the-art teaching facility before giving a guest speech to students, and unveiling a commemorative plaque.

The University Technical College (UTC) cost £10.4million and opened its doors to students last September, while half of the building was still under construction.

Professor Cox said: "I just saw the cryogenics lab. To see a school with the potential to do experiments at that level, it's unique.

"We see it all across the school. It's genius.

"It's something I talk about a lot. How do we get schools to work with local industry? This is a perfect example of that in action."

Building work on the school, which has 150 students, was finished in October last year and specialises in engineering and science, offering work with companies like BMW Mini and Activite Learning.

The UTC also has hi-tech cryogenics labs to study the production and behaviour of materials at low temperature.

Student at the college Callum Huntly, 17, from Wallingford said: "I want to do engineering. It's something I've really enjoyed since I was little.

"This college focuses on the BTEC side of things, something my last school didn't."

There are 39 UTC's in the UK, the first of which opened in 2010.

UTC's are dubbed 'career colleges' and aim to encourage 14 to 19-year-olds to bridge the gap between school and work.

One of the spearheads behind the UTC movement, Lord Kenneth Baker, also visited the college for a second time after first being treated to a tour of the unfinished building last October.

Principal of the college Owain Johns said: "We have had an incredible first term, with our pioneer students making use of our industry standard facilities and the expertise of our teachers and employer partners to develop their skills and knowledge.

"This official opening event was designed to recognise the huge amount of effort put in by so many people to get the school up and running."

He added: "Ultimately however it was about inspiring our young people to continue to make the most of this unique learning experience."

Warehouse plans

BICESTER: Plans to build giant warehouses have been deferred.

Albion Land wants to build a 53,000 sqm business park on farmland off Middleton Stoney Road and Howes Lane, Bicester, which it said would create up to 1,000 jobs.

The plans, recommended for approval by planning officers, included offices, general industrial units and warehouses up to 16.75m high.

Cherwell District Councillors were due to decide the planning application last Thursday, January 21, but it was deferred "to allow further negotiations with the agent to discuss the proportion of B uses across the application site."

Airfield trees

BICESTER: The owner of the former RAF Bicester flying field wants to remove 10 trees from the site to make way for a café and carpark.

Bicester Heritage, which own the site in Buckingham Road, have been restoring the former RAF flying field into a business park for historic motoring and aviation companies.

It has applied for planning approval to Cherwell District Council.

None of the trees have a tree preservation order in place.

Restaurant fire

OXFORD: Gee's Restaurant in Banbury Road was evacuated on Saturday after a fire started in the ventilation system.

Three fire engines arrived on scene at around 6.20pm and fire fighters were faced with large amounts of smoke coming from the roof of the restaurant.

The fire caused a water pipe to burst, and the leaking water came into contact with hot surfaces in the ventilation system creating steam, which extinguished the fire.

Parking warning

WEST OXON: Drivers parking illegally are being warned they face penalty charge notices from West Oxfordshire District Council.

The council said community wardens carry out spot checks in the evening and on Sundays at the request of police or in response to issues raised by residents and businesses.

OXON: A new campaign has been launched aimed at recruiting new Special Constables across Thames Valley.

The online #SpecialSide campaign launched on Monday to recruit people from all walks of life to work with the Special Constabulary.

PM has 'vendetta' against Oxfordshire, Cllr claims

PRIME Minister David Cameron's war of words with Oxfordshire County Council continued last week as a leading Oxford councillor claimed the Witney MP has a 'personal vendetta' against Oxfordshire.

By Loughlan Campbell

The Conservative MP suggested last Wednesday that Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) should 'look again' at the £69 million worth of cuts the local authority is having to make by 2018.

• Prime Minister David Cameron

His latest retort comes after the council's cabinet sent the Prime Minister a letter warning him of the 'devastating' cuts that the council had been forced into making.

The council announced last week that money from their reserves would have to be used and a 3.99 per cent increase in council tax from April next year would be brought in to tackle the measures.

Mr Cameron said in his response: "I understand it will be challenging for councils to make the further necessary savings but, as an Oxfordshire MP, I would urge the council to look again at its budget proposals.

"The recent Spending Review included a package of measures to support local government, enabling them to streamline their asset base and invest in services.

"We have made it possible for councils to sell property assets and use the capital to invest in transforming local services – and ensure further savings."

However, county councillor John Tanner, who is an executive board member on Oxford City Council, told the Guardian; "The continuing spat between Ian Hudspeth and the Prime Minister is damaging Oxfordshire right now.

"What this shows is how naïve some of the Conservatives on the county council were when they knew that the Tory's election manifesto meant cuts to local councils."

Cllr Tanner added: "What this shows is that David Cameron has a personal vendetta against Oxfordshire."

The council carried out a public consultation, titled Talking Oxfordshire, last year in which they identified 95 savings options that amounted to the £50m they originally needed at the time.

The savings are set to include scrapping mobile libraries, bus subsidies funding for carers, the arts and the homeless.

They are due to firm up its budget on February 16 with the document ready to be adopted in April.

The Guardian approached both Mr Hudspeth and Mr Cameron for comment but recieved no response.

Armed men hold up bank in Headington

POLICE are hunting for two men who are believed to be armed after the robbery of a Lloyds Bank in Headington on Saturday morning.

The offenders entered the bank in London Road at around 10.30am demanding money, with one man wielding what is believed to be a firearm.

They left the bank with the stolen money and fled in a white BMW 1 Series getaway vehicle.

Investigating officer Detective Sergeant Parsons from Force CID based in Oxford said: "This was a frightening crime which took place in broad daylight on a Saturday morning.

"Although no one was injured, staff and customers are obviously shocked by the experience."

The first offender is described as white, 5ft 7ins tall and slim, wearing a blue boiler suit and his face was covered.

The second offender is black, 6ft 2incs, and was also wearing a blue boiler suit with his face covered.

Both are believed to be in their twenties.

Det Sgt Parsons added: "I would ask anyone with information to get in touch immediately." Call police on 101.

Peace be with you – thanks to Triple Glazing

If you are looking for inner peace and extra warmth in your home during the winter chill Triple Glazing could be the answer – especially when you can get it at Double Glazing prices until 31st January.

SEH BAC, which has been installing windows, doors and conservatories for decades, says Triple Glazing customers enjoy not just energy-efficient insulation but an extra cushion against noise pollution.

The technology is extremely popular in Scandinavian countries where a blanket of snow reappears each winter.

Energy-efficiency ratings for windows carry a 'U' grading, with the lowest number being more energy efficient: single glazing has a U value of around 5, older double glazing 1.8, modern double glazing 1.3, while Triple Glazing carries a stunning 1.1 U value.

Norman Hornigold, Sales and Marketing Director of SEH BAC, said: "It is the perfect solution to saving on your energy bills giving you a quieter home, too."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Millet feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. Thame council votes to hike town's council tax

By Jayne Smith

THAME town councillors have voted through a rise of almost 10 per cent for the council tax precept.

Councillors agreed an increase of 9.9 per cent, which equates to £12.34 a year for band D households.

In total Thame Town Council need to raise £596,209 from the precept - £30,000 more than last year.

A report said although the town council had made a series of cuts and efficiencies, a rise in the precept was necessary due changes "beyond its control".

These included changes to staff National Insurance and pension arrangements, combined with a reduced grant from South Oxfordshire District Council, and increased responsibilities from Oxfordshire County Council.

A grant for £28,000 has been received to help improve the "vibrancy and vitality" of Thame's town centre.

A decision has yet to be made on how the cash will be spent, but the council will look into employing a market town co-ordinator to work on town centre economic development projects, and a part-time neighbourhood plan continuity officer to work on Thame's neighbourhood plan.

Capital projects planned for the next year include re-building the Cricket Clubhouse and a loan to the rugby club and improvements to Elms Park.

A town council statement said: "The Town Council is committed to continuing to deliver the projects, functions and services that residents, workers, and visitors to the town expect and we thank everyone for their ongoing support in that work.

"We always welcome suggestions from residents on ways that we can improve our budgeting still further."

Get ready for half-term panto fun

TICKETS have gone on sale for the 30th Launton pantomime - Cinderella.

Launton Village Players have staged pantomimes every February half-term since 1986.

Director Martin Evans has written 21 of them – including this year's show Cinderella.

It will have all the usual characters, Cinderella, the ugly sisters, a Fairy Godmother and a Prince.

But in true Launton pantomime style there will also be a few new characters, including Broker's Men - Miss Heave and Mr Ho, and Crazy Cutters mobile hairdressers Julian and Sandy and their apprentices Dipsy and LaLa.

In the three decades the pantomime has been running the group has raised more than £70,000 for local and international charities.

Producer Celia Evans, who has appeared in all 30 shows, said: "This year we decided to go for the classic Panto story - Cinderella.

"It's the third time we have put this on. The previous times were in 1988 and 2000, and we have a brand new script to work with."

She warned there was a "messy scene" featuring the hairdressers and plenty of chances to singalong.

Cinderella is staged at Cooper School's performance hall on Thursday 18, Friday 19 and Saturday 20 February at 2.30pm and 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £5 for children and £9 for adults, available from Bicester Oxfam Shop, Sheep Street, and Launton Post Office, Bicester Road.

Man jailed for damaging cars with stones and ball bearings

A WITNEY man has been jailed for eight months after a string of criminal damage incidents over four months in Hampshire.

Alec Hammerton, 43, of Fieldmere Close, and Damon Jennings, 44, of Manorfields Road in Milton Keynes, were sentenced on January 21 to eight months each for conspiracy to damage or destroy property.

Both men pleaded guilty at Winchester Crown Court on January 6 to conspiracy to commit criminal damage.

The incidents took place along the A272 between Petersfield and Winchester where stones or similar objects, such as ball bearings, were used.

Police staff investigator Karen Slade said: "This was a mindless campaign to cause criminal damage which has had a devastating effect on the community.

"Some residents felt as though they were being individually targeted as their vehicles were damaged on multiple occasions."

The 35 incidents took place between June and September last year.

Three months delay for hospital energy pipeline

A £14.8m scheme to install a pipeline between the John Radcliffe and Churchill hospitals in Headington could be hit by three months of delays because of a planning dispute.

Work on the Hospital Energy Project was halted earlier this month after an Oxford City Council officer wrote to contractors Vital Energi to say it did not have planning approval.

Vital then submitted a planning application two weeks, but a decision on it will not be made until March after Headington councillor Ruth Wilkinson called it in so it had to go before the planning committee rather than being agreed by officers under their delegated powers.

Cllr Wilkinson said she asked for it to be called in to give residents a chance to hear the issues surrounding the scheme at a committee meeting, despite the fact that the plan might have been approved more quickly by the officers alone.

Councillor Wilkinson said: "It's all a bit mad.

"If it goes to committee, it's not likely to get the go ahead until March."

The retroactive planning application was submitted to Oxford City Council on January 11.

The determination deadline for the application has been given as March 14.

About 1.3-miles of pipework is due to be laid between the two hospitals and was due to take around 18 months to complete.

The scheme is designed to improve the energy efficiency of both hospitals and includes laying insulated water pipes and a communication cable to improve data transfer.

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and Vital have said they are looking to submit a planning application for an area on Woodlands Road to become a temporary car park for residents.

Spokesperson for the trust Kaelum Neville said: "It will be solely for the use of residents when the access to their houses/drives/garages is closed as each section of the pipe is being laid.

"Surveying has shown that, at any time during the laying of the pipeline, no more than 30 car parking spaces will be suspended."

The trust will also issue 25 free visitors parking permits for residents to park in neighbouring parking zones.

Vital Energi did not respond to the Guardian's request for comment.

Prison visitor arrested in contraband operation

A 30-YEAR-OLD woman has been arrested on suspicion of trying to smuggle cocaine into Bullingdon Prison near Bicester.

The arrest was made as part of a joint operation last Wednesday to cut down the supply of drugs, mobile phones and other contraband into the prison.

The woman, from London, was arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply Class A drugs and was released on bail until March 2.

A total of 161 people were searched in the operation including prisoners, visitors and prison staff.

There were five traces of cocaine found in the operation as well as five of heroin, one of the hallucinogenic drug THC, three of MDMA and two of cannabis.

The operation at HMP Bullingdon involved officers from South East Regional Organised Crime Unit, Thames Valley Police, South East Counter Terrorism Unit and the National Crime Agency.

Governor of the prison, Ian Blakeman said: "This was another successful operation which targeted those intent on supplying illegal contraband into prisons."

Chippy residents will go to the polls

• Chipping Norton mayor Mike Tysoe is urging residents to vote on Thursday, March 3.

By Jayne Smith

CHIPPING Norton residents will go to the polls in March to vote on the town's neighbourhood plan.

The plan will guide future development in the town until 2031.

A referendum will take place on Thursday, March 3, from 7am to 10pm.

People will be asked: "Do you want West Oxfordshire District Council to use the neighbourhood plan for Chipping Norton to help it decide planning applications in the neighbourhood area?"

Town mayor Mike Tysoe said it was important people voted in the referendum.

He said: "We as a town have spent four years putting this thing together and have had a lot of consultations.

"Hopefully it's a meeting of the minds. None of these documents will ever be perfect – we haven't gone into allocating sites, if we had gone into allocating sites we would have been working on it for another three years.

"The hoops you have to jump through to get sites allocated are enormous.

"We think it's very important the town go and vote on it."

If more than 50 per cent vote in favour the plan will be adopted and used to help decide planning applications within the Chipping Norton area.

Work on the neighbourhood plan started in 2012 and has been led by a steering group of nine, including residents and town councillors.

It hosted a series of consultation events including a workshop, questionnaires, open days, public meetings and town-wide mail-drops.

Last year the proposed plan was given the green light by an independent planning inspector.

In her report planning inspector Ann Skippers said: "The Neighbourhood Plan recognises that the challenge for Chipping Norton is to meet the needs of development whilst ensuring that the unique qualities of this historic town and the special setting of the town and its surroundings, as a gateway to the Cotswolds, are conserved and enhanced. The importance of Chipping Norton as a vibrant, working town shines through the variety of policies in this Neighbourhood Plan."

A neighbourhood plan helps guide future development and can set out where housing or employment could be developed, the types of development and what infrastructure, such as open spaces and paths, was welcome.

For more information about the Chipping Norton Neighbourhood Plan view westoxon.gov.uk/chippingnorton

Bicester cleans for the Queen

BICESTER residents, schools and businesses are being urged to take part in a nationwide litter pick to support a campaign marking the Queen's 90th birthday.

Called Clean for the Queen, the initiative has been launched by charity Keep Britain Tidy, and will culminate with a national litter pick between March 4 and 6.

Community groups including parish councils, Scouts and Brownies are being encouraged to join schools, businesses and councils to take part in voluntary clean ups of their local areas.

Bicester's MP Victoria Prentis and Cherwell District Council have backed the initiative.

Cherwell said it will loan litter pickers, high visibility jackets and waste and recycling sacks to groups.

Mrs Prentis said: "This is a great opportunity to make sure North Oxfordshire is clean and tidy in time for HM The Queen's official 90th birthday on 21 April.

"Although the big litter pick will take place over 4, 5 and 6 March, people can get involved whenever they like."

Cllr Debbie Pickford, Cherwell's lead member for clean and green, said: "We want as many people as possible to get on board and sign up for this event."

Oxford parking rates lowered

ALL-DAY rates at Oxford's Oxpens Car Park have been docked by 65 per cent in a move by Oxford City Council.

The council are now offering all-day parking permits at the car park in Oxpens Road for just £8, a sizeable reduction on the standard £23 it costs to park there on week days.

The discounted tickets must be purchased online in advance, available Monday to Friday, running from Midnight to 23.59.

The offer will run until the new Westgate Shopping Centre opens its doors in October 2017.

There are only 160 tickets up for grabs and the city council are offering them on a first-come first-serve basis.

Cllr Alex Hollingsworth, council executive board member for travel said: "The Oxpens car park is not always full during weekdays which is also when the roads are less busy, so we have the option to make this offer.

"All our other car parks are running at full capacity throughout the week, and we always encourage drivers to look at park and ride and public transport as the best alternatives for the city centre."

Parking charges will remain unchanged at the other city centre car parks.

Oxford will be electric car pioneer in new trial

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD is set to be the first city in the world to have on-street electric vehicle charging stations after a major trial was announced to take place this year.

The trial by Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) will investigate the best way for 100 on-street charging stations to be put in residential streets around Oxford. This summer, the councils will invite technology suppliers to present solutions to electric car owners in the city with the hope to trial 30 chargers from six different organisations by the end of this year.

Following the trial, the best option will be rolled out in 100 sites around Oxford in 2018.

• Electric car BMW i8

Ian Hudspeth, OCC leader said: "This project will put Oxfordshire at the forefront of innovative low carbon transport solutions and will help stimulate economic growth in the electric vehicle sector.

"A high proportion of properties in Oxford do not have access to off-street parking which makes charging an electric vehicle very challenging."

The councils received a £800,000 grant from the Office for Low Emission Vehicles which was made possible after the Government set up the £40m Go Ultra Low Cities scheme last year.

The scheme was set up to strive to make every new passenger vehicle sold in the UK by 2050 an ultra low emission vehicle.

Possible ideas touted include cable gullies laid into the pavement or high-tech lamp posts that are capable of charging a vehicle.

John Tanner, Oxford City board member for climate change said: "Electric cars are the future and this extra government cash will help Oxford residents switch on to cheaper fuel, clean air and low carbon.

"I'm thrilled that Oxford will be leading the way to more electric and hybrid vehicles. We want to make it easy as possible for anyone driving in Oxford to turn to renewable energy."

They are also asking for those with electric cars who don't park on street to take part in the trial. Residents can get in touch to take part by emailing airquality@oxford.gov.uk.

£3k cheque

OXFORD: Benson-based Grundon Waste Management presented a cheque to Oxford Food Bank for more than £3,000 on Friday.

The waste company launched a 'Festive Food Share' campaign over December, in which it enabled the distribution of more than £60,000 worth of food.

Grundon encouraged Oxfordshire businesses to dispose of food as a last resort and to segregate food waste.

The company then donated cash for every new food waste customer that it signed up.

Man charged after attempt to rob store

A MAN has been charged by police following an attempted robbery at a supermarket in Rose Hill, Oxford, last Wednesday in which a man was stabbed in the arm.

Police and South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) were called to Premier Turna Supermarket in The Oval at 4.45pm following reports that a male had suffered a stab wound.

The victim was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital.

Ricky Harris, 25, of Pegasus Road, Blackbird Leys, was arrested by police on Thursday on suspicion of a robbery of a business.

He was subsequently charged with attempted robbery, wounding with intent, threatening a person with a blade or sharply-pointed article in a public place and racially-aggravated public order.

He appeared at Oxford Magistrates Court on Friday and was remanded in custody to appear at Oxford Crown Court on February 19.

David Gallagher, spokesperson for SCAS, said: "The assailant was being detained at the premises and our first responders to the scene therefore waited for police to arrive before entering the premises."

Parish voices concerns over hydro plant size

By Alex Ballinger

A PARISH council has voiced its concerns over the scale of a proposed hydro-electric plant on the River Thames at Sandford weir as preliminary work on the project started last week.

The scheme is being spearheaded by Oxford-based community energy company Low Carbon Hub (LCH) and is estimated to cost about £3.2 million.

But the chair of Kennington Parish Council, Colin Charlett, has opposed changes to the plans, which would see a taller building erected on the site.

Councillor Charlett said: "I can't say we're overjoyed about it. It's going to be looking like a monstrous barn in a rural area.

"[LCH] approached us. We're not interested in joining them. We don't feel it's a worthwhile way to spend council taxpayers' money."

He said that the original plans would have seen three small buildings built over each of the Archimedes screws to be placed in the river, but a planning application has been submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council to erect a single building that is three metres taller.

The project will use the river's current to generate 1,600MWh of electricity a year – enough to power 385 homes.

The preliminary work started on the scheme last Monday with workers digging a number of holes to determine exactly what type of soil was there.

Operations director at LCH Adriano Figueiredo said the work was still part of the design phase and that construction was due to begin in April and to be completed by October or early November.

He added: "The project will generate over 20 years about £1.5m in community benefits that will be reinvested in community projects.

"It's about local people being able to own it. It's about renewable energy."

The hydro project will be part funded by members of the local community buying shares in the company, due to go on sale in March or April.

It will sit in the river near Sandford but falls within the parish boundary of Kennington.

Chair of Sandford Parish Council, Steve Paine, said: "My views are supporting the project.

"I know a lot of research has gone into this over a long space of time. It's very impressive.

"I don't think it's going to create a particular problem for river users or natural parts of the river from what I've heard."

A hydro scheme was launched in the Thames at Osney in Oxford and has been running since last January. But Abingdon's proposed scheme was abandoned in November after organisers decided it was not financially viable.

Two hurt in crash

OXFORD: Two people were injured in a collision between a green Vauxhall Corsa and parked cars in Barns Road, Cowley, last Thursday at about 2.45pm.

The driver and passenger of the Vauxhall were treated at the John Radcliffe Hospital for minor injuries. Call police on 101 with information.

Clothes appeal

OXON: Baby clothes shop JoJo Maman Bebe is launching its 'From a Mother to Another' collection.

The campaign starts on February 1 and wants donations of baby shoes, boots and clothes to save them from landfill. They will be distributed through food banks in the UK and to Syrian refugees in Lebanon.

JoJo Maman Bebe has stores in Oxford's Banbury Road and Witney's Marriotts Walk.

On the up

OXFORD: Harry Potter actress Miriam Margolyes, who played Proffesor Sprout, and illustrator Korky Paul, both from Oxford, have taken part in National Doodle Day.

Their doodles will go under the hammer in an eBay auction to fundraise for Essex-based charity Epilepsy Action. They go on sale on February 5.

Man accused of causing death is caught by police

A MAN accused of causing the death of a 43-year-old woman in a road traffic collision while driving uninsured and over the legal alcohol limit was caught by police on Friday after absconding from court.

David Farnell, 28, (left), of Britannia Road, Banbury, was at his address on December 15, but failed to appear regarding the charges at Oxford Crown Court on January 8.

Police issued a public appeal to trace Farnell on Thursday and he was located in Bicester the next day before appearing at Oxford Crown Court.

He was charged last November of causing death whilst driving without due care and attention, whilst over the prescribed drinking limit and for driving in an uninsured car in relation to the incident that took place on July 27 last year at Sutton Courtenay, near Abingdon, on the B4016 Drayton Road.

The collision occurred at about 3.10pm when a blue and silver Mitsubushi vehicle collided with a tree and the female passenger died at the scene.

Police issued a statement thanking the public for their help in tracing Farnell.

Launch of new rail link is delayed until December

By Loughlan Campbell

PASSENGERS hoping to commute from Oxford Railway Station to London Marylebone will now have to wait until December.

The link between Oxford Parkway Station, near Kidlington, and the main Oxford station was originally scheduled to open this spring, but has since been pushed back to December 12 due to complaints about noise and vibration from the building works.

The opening of the route will also see Bicester having a direct train line with Oxford city centre for the first time since the link was closed to the construction of the train links in 2011.

Richard Stow, Thames Valley spokesperson for railway action group Rail Future, told the Guardian that the project had faced fierce objections in the past from Wolvercote residents and a public inquiry was held in 2010 and 2011 on the project.

He said: "Unfortunately, the delay was inevitable given the strident opposition that has faced the project from residents in North Oxford.

"I think you've got to take into account that it's not a huge delay and it was expected. However, of course, we are disappointed that the works won't be completed sooner.

Mr Stow added that Rail Future had been made aware by residents of their fears for the project.

He said: "There have been a lot of fears with the route in terms of the construction of the tracks and the noise and vibration from the works."

Following the public inquiry, Oxford City Council was given the responsibility for signing off matters relating to noise and vibration.

Dave Penney, managing director for Chiltern Railways, said: "The new line provides customers from Oxford city centre with more trains to London and provides a new route for many businesses and leisure visitors to the city."

Martin Frobisher, route managing director for Network Rail, said: "This is a significant next step in connecting Oxford with London Marylebone and follows the successful opening of the line from Oxford Parkway last year."

The £130m Oxford Parkway station was opened by the Prime Minister David Cameron last October with 1,000 commuters passing through its doors every day.

The existing line to London from Oxford Railway Station is the route to London Paddington, via Didcot and Reading.

Apprenticeships above national average in Oxon

MORE people in Oxfordshire are choosing apprenticeships than the national average, according to figures released on Thursday.

Statistics from the Skills Funding Agency revealed that the number of people starting apprenticeships in Oxfordshire aged under 19 had increased by more than five per cent in the last year and was higher than the average for the South East, which was just over two per cent.

Between the ages of 16 to 24, 60 more apprenticeships were taken up in the county - an increase of 5.4 per cent - more than the national average. A total of 124,300 people took up apprenticeships in the whole of England last year, equating to a percentage increase of 5.2 per cent.

Oxfordshire County Council and the Government made a commitment to create more apprenticeships in the county as part of the £1.2 billion City Deal agreement in January 2014.

Melinda Tilley, cabinet member for children and education, said: "With national legislation now requiring young people to stay in some form of education or training until the age of 18, the apprenticeship option is something well worth considering."

Oxford students set out to relive epic 1923 trek

By Loughlan Campbell

A GROUP of brave Oxford undergraduates are embarking on an 'epic' journey as the first people to retrace the steps of a 'groundbreaking' expedition of 1923 to discover the then-undocumented islands of Svalbard, near the North Pole.

The seven students and University fellow, Dr Stephen Pax Leonard of Exeter College, are undertaking the trip to the archipelago between the North Pole and Norway in July.

> We are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey

They will face 30 days of icy temperatures to record biological research of the landscape.

The original expedition in July 1923, saw four University students cover 180 miles by skiing and sledging while photographing the landscape.

This year the students retrace the steps of their alumni, keeping diaries along the way and camping in ice amid temperatures ranging from -5 to -10°C.

Expedition leader James Lam, 22, who's studying physics at Queen's College says it will be the 'biggest thing he's ever done'.

He told the Guardian: "This is a really personal trip for us students as we're hoping to retrace the steps of a historic group of Oxford students.

"We want to go on exactly the same expedition and pay homage to them but it will take a lot of planning to get it right."

The group is undergoing tough physical training to prepare for the excursion, and are heading to Norway early in the summer to test their skills in the conditions.

The route will see them trek from Duym Point past Bear Bay ending up at Billen Bay by walking and skiing, each pulling about 100kg of equipment.

They attended a series of university talks about solo expeditions and decided in November to travel to Svalbard.

Mr Lam, added: "It's literally the biggest thing I've ever done and we are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey.

"We're hoping to lay another baseline in research of the area so that later this century new comparisons can be drawn."

As part of their expedition, the group will carry out fixed-point repeat photography (replicating previous photos from the same spot) as they look to focus on how the landscape has changed over the 93 years between the expeditions.

They will also conduct temperature profiling of the landscape's various environments and hope to climb Svalbard's mountains, including it's highest reaching 1,713m above sea level, Newtontoppen.

The group is filming their trip and hopes to release a documentary to screen at film festivals.

ADVERTORIAL

The Changing Face Of Men's Wedding Attire

British wedding habits have changed rapidly during the last few years, and this evolvement continues into 2016.

- The average wedding now costs over £16,000
- The trend for cupcakes is falling out of favour, being replaced with trends like cheese towers.
- Purple is the most popular bridesmaids dress colour
- 18% of newlyweds now honeymoon in the UK and 34% in Europe

These changes are also reflected in what the groom is opting to wear on his big day. At The Cotswold Tailor we have noticed big shifts in demand in both our hire department and our bespoke tailoring service, when it comes to wedding suits.

In 2015 we rented out not a single frock coat, and demand for morning coats fell significantly. When we did rent out a morning coat, more often than not the groom has opted to move away from traditional wedding waistcoats, and instead replaced these with tweed (see picture right).

Noticeably with both my bespoke and hire wear clients, there has been a shift towards: more tailored, three piece, slim-fit, lounge suits, particularly brighter blue shades. With many of my bespoke clients pointing out the benefits of getting frequent use out of the lounge suit post the wedding.

Possibly the biggest trend, however, has been in the rising popularity of tweed. As country/natural themed weddings have grown in popularity so too has the demand for both three piece tweed suits, but also the more relaxed look of a pair of chinos paired with tweed waistcoats and tweed jacket. (see picture right)

This look has become so popular that 2016 has seen us launch an entire new hire wear range dedicated to tweed.

WIN tickets to the unmissable London Classic Car Show

A spectacular new international classic car show took the country by storm last January – now it's back even bigger and even better than ever before. And you could be there, too, as we have five pairs of Sunday tickets to giveaway in this very special promotion.

Staged at the ultra-modern ExCeL exhibition centre in Docklands from 18-21 February 2016, the London Classic Car is the capital's biggest and best celebration of automotive history.

Crammed with innovative features, mouth-watering classic cars plus a star-studded list of celebrity visitors, the inaugural show was such a resounding success that the follow-up will be nearly twice as big.

The event's centrepiece is the 'The Grand Avenue', a central boulevard along which many iconic classics are driven. Everything from genuine Formula 1 Grand Prix racers to some of the most sought-after supercars from yesteryear take to the high-octane catwalk allowing visitors to see and hear their favourites in action. For 2016, The Grand Avenue will be even grander with a significant increase in track distance.

Closing date: Friday, February 5

Another of the eye-catching additions for 2016 is an entire new hall dedicated to prestige and performance classics with privately owned examples representing the country's 25 leading car clubs helping to create an entire show within a show. Visitors, too, will be treated to period entertainment to continue the hall's retro vibe.

Tickets are now available from the official show website: www.thelondonclassiccarshow.co.uk. Adult admittance – if tickets are purchased in advance – is priced at just £23.

WIN TICKETS!

We have 5 pairs of tickets to this great show and to be in with a chance of winning one all you have to do is answer this simple question:

WIN tickets to see Mrs Henderson Presents

DON'T miss MRS HENDERSON PRESENTS, the hilarious, brand-new, five-star musical based on the much loved film that starred Dame Judi Dench and Bob Hoskins, as it makes its West End debut in February 2016 having left critics in raptures at the Theatre Royal Bath.

It's London, 1937, and recently widowed eccentric, Laura Henderson, is looking for a way of spending her time and money. After acquiring and renovating the Windmill Theatre, she hires feisty impresario Vivian Van Damm to present a bill of non-stop variety acts. But as war looms something more is required to boost morale and box office... Mrs Henderson comes up with the idea of The Windmill Girls - glamorous young women posing as nude statues - and audiences flock!

With book and direction by the Tony Award-winning Terry Johnson (La Cage Aux Folles), choreography by Andrew Wright (Singin' in the Rain, Guys and Dolls), lyrics by the multi-award-winning Don Black (Sunset Boulevard) and music by George Fenton and Simon Chamberlain, this glorious and heartwarming new production stars Olivier-winner Tracie Bennett (Les Misérables, End of the Rainbow, ITV's Coronation Street), Olivier-nominated Ian Bartholomew (Into the Woods) and Olivier-nominated Emma Williams (Chitty Chitty Bang Bang).

Closing date: Friday, February 19th

WIN TICKETS!

We have a pair of tickets worth over £110 to see Mrs Henderson Presents at the Noel Coward to be won by one lucky reader, and to be in with a chance of winning all you have to do is answer the simple question below,

Most Oxfordshire businesses gave pay rises – But many thought salaries were still uncompetitive

One-quarter of the Oxfordshire-based employers who took part in a recent survey are unsure whether their salaries are competitive enough, according to a new report.

The annual Oxfordshire Salary Survey run by the county's leading independent recruitment consultancy, Allen Associates, has revealed that 25% of employers are unsure whether their wages are sufficiently competitive while almost one in five, said they didn't think they were.

However, almost all respondents awarded pay rises to their staff in 2015, with over three-quarters (77%) increasing salaries across the business and a further 18% giving pay rises in certain areas or to selected individuals. Typically, these were in the region of 2% to 4% - and for one-quarter of businesses, this represented a bigger pay rise than in the previous year.

Kate Allen, Managing Director at Allen Associates, said: "While over half the businesses responding to our latest salary survey were confident that their salaries were set at the right level, it's concerning that 43% were unsure or believed they were uncompetitive, despite awarding pay rises.

"Demand for the brightest and most talented people is at the highest level we've seen for years – and there is every indication that it will rise further in 2016 as employers continue to want to resource their growth or take their business in new directions. At the very least and as a starting point, job seekers will be looking for a competitive salary."

The report also revealed that businesses were divided over whether employees placed greater value on working environment and culture – or salary. Working environment and culture came out on top with 38% saying they thought staff valued this most, slightly above salary (35%) and softer benefits, such as extra holidays, working from home and flexible hours (27%).

Kate Allen continued: "While salary may not be everything, it can often make all the difference to candidates who are weighing up their options. We are increasingly seeing good candidates with more than one job offer to choose from, so at the very least, employers must offer competitive remuneration packages if they want to attract their first choice.

"Fortunately most forward-looking businesses recognise that they need to consider a wide range of factors, including salary, when targeting today's discerning workforce. By far the greatest number of job applicants are the so-called millennials born in the 1980s and 90s, who look for different qualities in their employers when compared to previous generations. They want to earn well but they also place great value on a business's workplace culture and conditions, environmental credentials, reputation and corporate social responsibility to name a few, so it's imperative that these are as attractive as possible.

"There is a lot for employers to think about and our research indicates that many are working hard to get it right and to stay one step ahead of the game. With such a fast-paced recruitment market, employers will need to move with the times and continue to invest in modern-day practices, training and professional development to retain and attract the best candidates," added Mrs Allen.

Allen Associates' Oxfordshire Salary Survey looked at salary and benefits data for 1,316 staff provided by 61 employers. For more information on this survey or to obtain a copy of the report,

Of the employers who took part in Allen Associates' Oxfordshire Salary Survey:

95% awarded pay rises in 2015

The average pay rise was 2 to 4%

For 25% this was higher than in 2014

But just 57% believe their salaries are competitive enough

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Switch to visit

BRITISH house DJ Switch will be at the O2 Academy in Oxford on Saturday, January 30.

The well-known DJ will be joined at the Cowley Road venue by DJs Chase and Status, with the latter supporting Switch.

Tickets cost £12.37 with the gig starting at 10am. The gig is suitable for over-18s.

Circus visits city

THE Moscow State Circus will be visiting the New Theatre in Oxford on Monday, February 1, and Tuesday, February 2.

Audience members will be thrilled by tightrope walking, aerial dancing and rolling skating.

Both shows at the George Street theatre start at 7.30pm, with tickets costing from £17.25 to £30.15.

Marking anniversary

TO mark the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's death, 'The Rough Guide to Shakespeare,' will be at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Saturday, January 30.

The show features songs, dances, comedy sketches and extracts of the Bard's work. The Station Road venue starts at 6pm and tickets cost £8.50 or £6.50.

Blues man to launch tour

FOLLOWING the release of his latest album, 'The Only Good Addiction Is Love', roots and blues musician Sean Taylor will be at the Old Fire Station in Oxford on Thursday, February 4.

By James Richings

The first stop on his UK tour, which will also see the musician perform in Basingstoke, Chesham, Doncaster and many other venues, Sean hopes to make a good impression when he visits the George Street venue next week.

"The title of the album comes from the former president of Uruguay, a man named Pepe who was described as the poorest president in the world," Sean told the Guardian.

"He gave 90 per cent of his salary to charity, refused to live in the presidential palace and instead lived on a farm with his wife and three-legged dog.

"Pepe famously said 'The Only Good Addiction Is Love' and I thought that was beautiful."

Playing in a trio with fellow musicians Hana Piranha on violin and drummer Paulina Szczepaniak, the threesome will focus on playing tracks from his latest album, but will also include material from his previous seven records.

It was in his teenage years that saw Sean develop a love for music.

After being inspired by Noel Gallagher's musical and writing skills in his Oasis days, Sean started to learn the guitar before discovering the late-1960s blues scene.

That discovery has played a huge part in Sean's current musical influence, which has seen him become a popular name on the UK blues scene.

After completing his 11-date UK tour, the 32-year old will then embark on a European tour including gigs in Spain, Holland and Germany.

"Every gig is always different and I never write a set list which makes it even more exciting," Sean said.

"You have to react to the audience at every show and make it different.

"There will bluesy, folk, psychedelic and low-fi songs about the world around us."

He added: "I travelled to Austin, Texas, for the first time in 2010 and recorded the first of three albums. That was a big moment and brought my music to a lot of people.

"And it is important for every age group to watch and support live music.

"It is especially important for youngsters to watch live music, as the world we live in is dominated by instant technology.

"Live music is something that resonates long after the moment itself."

Tickets cost £13.20 or £14 on the door, with the gig starting at 7.30pm.

Comedian in town

COMEDIAN Simon Evans will be at The Mill in Banbury on Friday, January 29.

The 50-year-old comedian from Luton is visiting the Spiceball Park theatre as part of his 'In The Money' UK tour.

Tomorrow's gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15.50 or £13.50 for concessions.

Musician returns

MUSICIAN Lucy Rose will be returning to the county when she arrives at the Chipping Norton Theatre on Monday, February 1.

The 26-year-old, who recently performed at the O2 Academy in Oxford and at Truck Festival at Steventon last year, visits the Spring Street venue following the release of her album, 'Work it Out'.

Tickets cost £15 and the concert starts at 7.45pm.

Covers band gig

COVERS band Damn Good Reason will be performing at the New Inn in Witney this Saturday, January 30.

The five-piece West Oxfordshire group will play hits from the likes of AC/DC, The Rolling Stones and The Who. The 9pm gig is free.

Carrack makes return visit

IT will be a case of déjà vu when musician Paul Carrack performs at the New Theatre, Oxford, this Sunday, January 31.

By James Richings

Returning to the George Street venue almost 11 months after his previous visit, the 64-year-old will be performing hits from his latest album, 'Soul Shadows', while also airing classics such as 'How Long, 'Living Years' and 'Over My Shoulder'.

The former Ace, Squeeze and Mike and The Mechanics musician revealed to the Guardian how he first got into music, something that would later become one of his passions.

"I was always interested in music and influenced my brother John's record collection," he said.

"Everything from Everly Brothers, The Shadows, to Ray Charles but when I saw The Beatles live at Sheffield City Hall it was all over as far as doing anything else goes."

On his forthcoming Oxford gig, Carrack said: "We played at the New Theatre last year for the first time in several years and we were pleasantly surprised to have a full house and we got a really great response, so we are really looking forward to it."

Paul's national breakthrough came in the mid-1970s when playing with the bands Ace and Squeeze.

Tracks such as, 'How Long?', 'Labelled With Love', "Third Rail' and 'Tempted' served to put the musician on the map.

However, it was only after Carrack joined his next band that he was to become a global superstar.

The musician decided to become a member of the pop/rock supergroup Mike and The Mechanics, leading to him becoming a household name.

With the band consisting of established musicians including Mike Rutherford (Genesis) and Paul Young (Sad Café), the five-piece group would become huge globally with songs such as 'Silent Running', 'The Living Years', 'Over My Shoulder' and 'World of Mouth'.

The group released seven albums, with every one of them peaking in the UK album charts.

Yet, out of all of the musicians Carrack has performed and worked with, there is one that stands above the rest.

"Eric Clapton," he said. "He's a great, committed musician who's had should an amazing life and career.

Also, when asked about being dubbed by the BBC as 'The Man with the Golden Voice', Carrack said: "It's nice but also a bit embarrassing and tempting fate somewhat as singers are always paranoid about getting colds and flu. The respect of my peers and my fans has always meant more to me than being famous."

Tickets cost from £32.65 to £43.65, with the gig starting at 7.30pm.

Former teacher loves life as a comic

TEACHER turned comedian Rob Rouse is relishing the freedom of his new role.

He will be bringing his humour to the Glee Club in Hythe Bridge Street, Oxford, this weekend.

The former Geography teacher, who won the 'So You Think Your Funny' competition at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 1998, will be joined by a top line-up of Sean Percival, John Fothergill and another comic who has not been confirmed.

"Comedy's never felt like a job," Rob told the Guardian.

"I'm about to bounce on a trampoline with my daughter at three o'clock on a Tuesday afternoon and I've watched her and her brother grow from babies, albeit sometimes I'm away at weekends, so they may tell you a tale of neglect!

"So, on the whole, I'd say a sense of freedom is one of the best things about being a comic."

By James Richings

A popular face in the British comedy circuit, Rob is a regular at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, which has paved the way for him to appear on panel shows such as '8 out of 10 Cats' and 'Celebrity Juice'.

He hosted his own show on BBC Three called 'Comedy Shuffle with Rob Rouse', which aired in February 2007.

"I could safely say I don't do one-liners, but I just try and be as funny and honest as I possibly can," he said.

"Since I left the womb, I've always loved comedy and funny people, but had no idea it was something I could do as a 'job'.

"Then, whilst training as a teacher, I got bullied into being in a play.

"On the opening night with just me on stage, the set fell down and I just had to improvise while we rebuilt it."

Rob added: "Growing up, it was hard not to be inspired when you're on a diet of Monty Python, Blackadder, Vic and Bob, Fry and Laurie etc, it felt like a very fertile time for comedy.

"Then, as I got older, I discovered Bill Hicks, Richard Pryor and many more American stand-ups, which felt more subversive and then you just keep digging and it's endless.

"Then you start doing it and meet new people every day who blow your mind."

To the question of his age, the comedian replied: "287 in dog years."

Tickets cost £13.50 or £5 for students, with the final entry for this Saturday's gig being at 8pm.

GRAFFITI CLASSICS
16 strings, 8 dancing feet and 4 voices with 1 aim: to make classical music wickedly funny and fantastically exhilarating for everyone, young and old. Graffiti Classics bursts the elitist boundaries of the traditional string quartet with its hilarious all-singing, all-dancing musical comedy show. It's a classical concert, a gypsy-folk romp, an opera, a stand-up comedy set and a brilliant dance show all rolled into one! You will enjoy a broad spectrum of music from Beethoven to Bluegrass, Bach to Brahms, Strauss to Saturday Night Fever – all played with the Graffiti Classics virtuosity. There really is something for everyone and Graffiti Classics never fails to get audiences laughing, clapping and singing along.

RICHARD DIGANCE
Many people sing, play guitar and tell stories but not many have supported Steve Martin, Robin Williams or played a guitar duet with Brian May of Queen, Richard Digance has. He is not just a singer/guitarist, but one of the country's most celebrated comedy entertainers. This show brings more hysterically funny nostalgia and a wealth of new songs and anecdotes.

ULTIMATE GENESIS
Loc Endoc captures all the excitement of a live Genesis gig, with three hours of scintillating musicianship and a state of the art light show. Throughout their progressive career, Genesis was regarded as one of the very best live rock bands. Loc Endoc recreates the visual magnitude and musical excellence of Genesis to deliver a truly memorable sound and light spectacular. This is the last chance to experience the band's highly acclaimed 2015 show which features a selection of Genesis' classic '70s album tracks and massive later hits.

THE RUFF GUIDE TO SHAKESPEARE
Specially created to mark the 400th anniversary of his death, The Ruff Guide to Shakespeare is a glorious celebration of the work of the world's greatest playwright.
Expect silly sketches, toe-tapping songs, daft dance routines and extracts from all the famous and some less well-known plays. The show is the perfect introduction to Shakespeare and to the Tudor England that gave birth to his writing.
Bristol Old Vic Theatre School's trademark mix of crystal clear storytelling, live music and inventive staging brings new life and understanding to the beauty and power of Shakespeare's verse.

Ford reaps police vehicle orders

POLICE forces nationwide have chosen both the Ford Kuga sport utility vehicle (SUV) and the Ford Transit Custom van to renew fleets from 2016.

By James Richings

In a total deal comprising 1,100 vehicles, forces across the country have recognised the Kuga's all-wheel-drive capability and the versatility of the iconic Ford Transit to help in their pursuit of keeping the country safe.

A total of 22 forces from the UK's northern consortium ordered 680 Ford models, which includes 120 Kuga SUVs and 560 Transit Custom medium vans, with half of the Transit Customs being supplied by Ford as cell vans.

The vans have been converted by its special vehicle preparation (SVP) operation into a vehicle that will be capable of securely transporting two detainees, accompanied by up to five police officers.

Ford Kuga and Transit Custom were also top of the SUV and van wish list of the country's southern consortium, which also included six fire services as well as 28 police forces.

They also added 110 Ford Transit Connect light vans and 30 Ranger pick-ups to the 80 Kugas and 200 Transit Customs which made up their Ford order.

Ford direct sales manager Terry Adams said: "Ford has a long history of working with emergency services spanning 50 years.

"The stylish and capable Ford Kuga has established itself as their rural beat car of choice with all-important all-wheel drive necessary for winter conditions."

British Transport Police, South Wales and Dyfed Powys are other forces with Ford Kugas featuring in their fleets.

The market-leading Ford Transit Custom is used in every police region in the country, with roles as cell vans, crime scene units, dog carriers and camera vans.

The new all-wheel-drive Ford Mondeo is also to be considered as one of the best estate vehicles for the transportation of police dogs.

Its high payload and volume capacity has met the new DEFRA (Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs) and RSPCA (Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) guidelines for in-car kennel sizes and welfare of dogs in transits.

• Broadcaster and Ford owner James Whale at the Ford SVP Centre

Broadcaster, Ford driver and dog owner James Whale visited the Ford SVP in Essex to see how the Mondeos were converted into dog units.

Also, the addition of a diesel estate to the Focus ST range last year attracted great interest from the police, with its combined performance, fuel economy and generous load space.

Guardian Recruitment

Oxfordshire Guardian & Observer Group
are looking to fill the following vacancies

Multimedia Sales People

- Are you confident and outgoing?
- Do you love speaking to people both over the phone and face to face?
- Can you build and maintain rapports with clients?
- Can you think outside the box?
- Are you target driven and money motivated?
- Are you a team player?

Taylor Newspapers are currently looking for talented sales people to join their experienced advertising sales team so if you can tick all the above boxes, we would love to hear from you.

If you think you have got what it takes to succeed please email your CV to julian@taylornewspapers.co.uk or call him on 01235 516926 for an informal chat.

Sales Administrator
£15,000 pa + OTE Commission

We are looking for a full time administrator to prepare copy for publication for our newspapers at our offices in Didcot.

You will need to be computer literate, a team player with good communication skills and have a sense of urgency about you.

No experience is required as training will be given and this role could develop into that of an Account Manager dealing with and earning commission from your own customer base.

A great opportunity for someone wishing to enter the media business. Please call Julian Richings for an informal discussion on 01235 516926.

Multi-drop Drivers
(with own van)

Owner drivers required for newspaper drops in your area to deliver newspapers on a weekly basis. Salary + fuel allowance.

tappins
the word on the street in oxford

FULL AND PART-TIME COACH DRIVERS REQUIRED

Tappins Coaches has undergone a major transformation over the last 3 years. Our fleet replacement programme is almost complete, with a further 24 new vehicles currently in the course of delivery As a result we are looking to strengthen our Didcot-based driving team.

We are looking for experienced, smart, flexible, and customer-focused professionals. Our work includes home-to-school transport, rail replacement, express service, corporate charter and multi-day touring, both in the UK and mainland Europe. The amount of stage carriage work currently undertaken is very small, so applicants from that background will need to demonstrate a clear desire and ability to quickly adapt.

The current rate of pay (including merit bonus) is £12.00 per hour, and you will be entitled to 34 days annual leave. All full-time drivers are guaranteed 160 hours per 4-weekly pay period.

If you have other commitments which mean you are unable to work on a full-time basis, we have a large volume of home-to-school, evening and weekend work which we could offer you on a part-time or casual basis.

Please contact us on: 01235 519412 or email your details to: simon@tappins.co.uk

Appleton tells fans to expect more U's signings

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton has prepared U's fans to expect incomings and outgoings with the squad before the transfer deadline shuts on Monday night.

The U's boss says that fans are likely to see 'one or two' signings to bolster Oxford's attacking options and also confirmed yesterday that two United players are set to spend next season out on loan.

The news came as Oxford secured the signing of 18-year-old Everton defender Jonjoe Kenny on an initial one-month loan deal. Although he's unlikely to be the last new face to walk through the door at Grenoble Road.

Appleton wouldn't confirm the names of any players likely to depart the Kassam Stadium, but midfielder Danny Rose has been touted to leave the U's temporarily in recent weeks.

In regards to any more new signings, Appleton once again wouldn't be drawn on names.

He told the Guardian yesterday: "One or two new players could come in either before Monday's deadline or when the emergency loan window reopens.

"Hopefully we can get one in before the end of the window.

"In regards to outgoings, two more players are likely to be going out the other way. They haven't had enough game time this season and we're happy to let them have the chance."

The U's recently lost two of its forward options with Chris Maguire returning to Rotherham United and Ryan Taylor expected to be out until March through injury.

The 40-year-old added: "We're short in that area at this moment in time, so any incomings to the club will likely be in an attacking sense."

United face Championship side Blackburn Rovers in a hotly-anticipated fourth round FA Cup tie at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday, which was confirmed as a sell-out by the club yesterday.

Oxford and Blackburn have a rich history with one another in the competition, with the U's beating Rovers 3-1 in February 1964 to get into the quarter-finals in a historic win.

Appleton infamously spent 67 days at the helm of Rovers back in 2013 before he took the United job, but says a win over his old side at the Kassam will not cast his thoughts back to the north west.

He said: "Honestly, there will be no real personal significance for me if we grab the win on Saturday.

"Everybody knows the story of what happened at Blackburn but I was only given 67 days so I never had the chance to develop a real affinity for the club and put my stamp on them."

Oxford star commits to U's

OXFORD United Women have secured highly-rated midfielder Ella Franklin-Fraiture to the squad for the upcoming season.

The 18-year-old has been with United since she was 10 and is described by the club as a 'hard-working, skilful player who enjoys taking people on' after her new one-year deal was confirmed by the club on Monday.

Franklin-Fraiture has been a regular with the first team since she was 16 and made 19 appearances for the squad in last season's campaign.

Her manager Les Taylor said: "Ella is a tremendous product for the future, having only just turned 18.

"She is an exciting midfield player who likes to create and get forward. She is a player who I think will be very important to the team for this coming season."

Franklin-Fraiture said: "I am very happy to have been offered a contact for the coming season and can't wait to continue growing as both a team and a player.

"I feel very grateful to have been given the opportunity to play with the first team at a young age, which was my ultimate goal."

She joins Sophie Baker, 19, who signed a new deal with the club last week, in agreeing new terms for the season.

Motocross prodigy handed award in lavish ceremony

A SUTTON Courtenay motocross biker picked up his prestigious motocross championship award at a lavish ceremony in Birmingham on Saturday night.

Independent biker, Cody Ling, 21 picked up the ACU British Clubman Motorcross Championship trophy at a ceremony at the National Motorcycle Museums in Birmingham after dominating the championship.

Ling has been racing since he was seven years old, accumulating 107 trophies in motorcross, with the sport taking up around 30 weekends of his year.

His performance in the Route 77 national championship was enhanced by the fact that he led the way from the 2nd round to the final sixth round racing on a KTM 250F bike in August whilst his 39 other competitors were riding on 350f's and 450f's.

Ling ended up winning the championship and it was only in October last year when his mum, Jacqui Ling, from Sutton Courtenay, 49 found out the news he'd also won the clubman's trophy.

She said: "Every year, Cody has gone up through the ranks, facing off against sponsorship-backed riders and he has done so well.

"We could not be more proud of him, he's just such a talent and these awards shows how good he is at the sport. He just loves to ride."

Bowery bags U's a winner on debut

A SWEETLY struck hit from new signing Jordan Bowery secured a 1-0 win for Oxford United in a tightly contested encounter at Fratton Park on Saturday.

The striker executed a 25-yard effort from range in the second half, just a day after signing for the U's in what was labelled a must-win game for Oxford.

A packed Fratton Park atmosphere greeted the players as they walked out and United were keen to get the ball down and play their game from the off.

Kemar Roofe and George Baldock came close in the opening period with Pompey 'keeper Ryan Fulton stopping Danny Hylton from going through on goal in a sprint race between the pair.

By Loughlan Campbell

United were dominating possession and oozing class on the turf, but they couldn't translate their superiority into goals.

Pompey's Mark McNulty then came close in the 19th minute with a shot that beat Oxford's Sam Slocombe but was knocked off the line by Jake Wright.

Liam Sercombe then came close to finding the net in the 39th when he unleashed an effort that flashed across the face of goal.

Four minutes into the second half, Oxford won a penalty when Hylton was brought down by Fulton with referee Neil Swarbrick pointing to the spot.

Sercombe stepped up to the spot, but it was déjà vu for Oxford fans once more as the effort was saved, and his rebound was blocked away.

United didn't let their heads drop and Hylton headed wide from a free-kick shortly afterwards.

Bowery then came on for the U's and the stage was set for the former Aston Villa forward, who dragged an effort wide off the post on 71 minutes.

Five minutes later, he was picked out by Wright and from the edge of the penalty area, he unleashed a direct effort at Fulton, which sped, past his flailing arms into the corner of the net.

The goal secured the win, which keeps Oxford in promotion contention in third place ahead of Portsmouth who remain in fifth.

Sport Bites

Ladies Lose

HOCKEY: Oxford Hockey Club's ladies' first's were dealt a 4-1 defeat to Spencer's first's in a home loss with Catherine Reaney grabbing the goal for Oxford.

The ladies' second's shared the points in a 2-2 draw with Hawks' third's with Lara Wilkinson and Lucy Denly grabbing the goals.

In the men's, the first team unluckily lost out 5-4 against Maidenhead's first team in which Dan Bleach scored a hat-trick.

Double test

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars are set for a busy weekend with the Yellows heading down to face Invicta Dynamos on Saturday before facing the Cardiff Devils at Oxpens Road on Sunday.

It will be two very different games with the Dynamos currently sat in second in the NIHL 2 table whilst the Devils lay at the bottom of the standings.

The Stars head into the weekend on the back of a 3-4 defeat to Chelmsford Chieftains earlier this month.

Title blow

FOOTBALL: Kidlington's title challenge was dealt a blow on Saturday as the Greens fell to a 2-0 defeat to Highmoor Ibis at Palmer Park Stadium.

Milton United also fell to a 2-3 scoreline to Flackwell Heath at the Heights in the Hellenic Premier with Royal Wootton Bassett winning 3-0 over Oxford City Nomads.

Thame United were also defeated in a 2-1 defeat to Brimscombe & Thrupp on Saturday.

Blues to move to Abingdon this season

OXFORD Rugby League club are set to play games in Tilsley Park in Abingdon this season, ending their three-year stay at Iffley Road, it's been confirmed.

The decision follows months of planning with the club making the announcement on Saturday after the move was given the seal of approval by the RFL.

Club CEO Adrian Smith paid tribute to the club's old ground in a statement stating there is 'a touch of sadness' about the move.

He said: "Iffley Road has been terrific in establishing Oxford RL and gaining the envy of many a club with its wonderful pitch and pavilion and there is a touch of sadness about moving.

"The feeling of excitement about Tilsley is huge and the prospect and potential for growth in Abingdon is there to build upon.

"Tilsley offers a new dynamic playing and training on the state of the art 4G pitch, which will be great for the squad."

The 4G pitch is scheduled to be completed at the park in mid-March so the first couple of home games of the season will take place at Iffley Road.

Team manager, Steve Jones said: "I truly believe the club, Abingdon and Tilsley Park together will make a great partnership, it's a brilliant opportunity for all concerned."

City blast past Cheltenham in cup

OXFORD City blasted their way past Cheltenham Town on Monday night to secure a place in third round of the FA Trophy.

Former Cheltenham striker Marlon Jackson had put City in front early on in the contest before Bradley Bubb and Darren Pond rounded out the scoring.

Ex-City player Omari Sterling-James missed two great efforts for the home side early on before Jackson fired home in the 30th minute with a piledriver from 25 yards.

Cheltenham nearly hit back in superb fashion after Bobbie Dale's acrobatic overhead kick struck the crossbar.

City then extended their lead with just a couple of seconds gone in the second half after a run from Luke Coulson led to Bubb tapping in.

Pond then rounded out the scoring in the game on 77 minutes, finding space before pocketing the ball into the near post from outside the area.

The result now sets up a clash with Woking for Oxford in the third round next Saturday.

City were in fine form at the weekend when they beat St Albans City 4-1 at Marsh Lane with Bubb, Pond, Jackson and Connor McDonagh finding the net for City to send them back into fourth in the table.

City play Whitehawk in the league on Saturday.

No luck for Blues in Towcester test

WITNEY could not contain the league leaders Towcestrians in a 18-10 win in an away defeat on Saturday.

The Blues consecutive run of six wins was brought to a close in Towcester despite a valiant display from rhe away side.

Witney's Callum Godfrey went over the line in the early stages to kick off the scoring before the home side hit back on 20 minutes with Captain Zak Osborne barrelling over the line out wide.

Towcestrians then extended their lead on the stroke of half time after Witney conceded a penalty and fullback James Falvey converted.

The second half started badly for the Blues when they conceded another penalty on 48 minutes and Falvey slotted it home.

Left winger Rhys Morgan got Oxford back into the game after a fast-paced run from 25 metres in a good team effort to take the score to 11-10.

However, on 63 minutes, Towcestrians put the game to bed after a couple of rucks saw them push The Blues down to their try line and Dave Stocks went over for a converted try.

Witney drop to fourth in the South West 1 East table.

Pepperell suffers mixed fortunes

ABINGDON golfing starlet Eddie Pepperell suffered mixed fortunes at the Abu Dhabi Golf Championship last week as his promising start soon faded.

The Frilford Heath golfer started the tournament last Thursday in good spirits and shot a two-under par.

Amongst the shots included an eagle at the 18th hole in which he struck 15 pars through out the run, placing 29th in the field.

Three birdies in the first four holes put Pepperell into the top-ten during the second round whilst the golfers battled the weather.

The weather forced the players into only playing nine holes during the day with the golfer ending the round on 71.

The third day saw Pepperell continue his good fortune, striking a 69 on the course to lift him up the Leaderboard.

However, his tournament seemed to collapse on the fourth day with the golfer striking a round of 74 for a final total of 284, leaving him with a score of four under par.

The result meant the golfer finished the tournament in tied 46th.

However, the golfer will have his chance to make his mark this week today when the Commercial Bank Qatar Masters gets underway today in Doha, lasting four days.

Millers blunted by Swindon loss

By Loughlan Campbell

NORTH LEIGH suffered another setback in the hunt to get into the play-off spots with a 2-1 home defeat to Swindon Supermarine on Saturday.

The Millers spent the afternoon chasing the game after falling behind to two goals early on in both periods from Sam Morris and Ashley Taylor respectively.

New signing Lance Williams grabbed the consolation for Leigh with a few minutes left to play in what was a deflating result for Mark Gee's side, who are still winless in 2016.

It took a while for the Millers to settle into the game and Jon Else headed over unopposed from a lofted corner on 10 minutes.

Just three minutes later Swindon were in front after midfielder Morris was found in space 10 yards out, and even though his first shot hit the post he was on hand to tap home the rebound from close range.

Leigh's Callum McNish responded with a barrelled shot straight into the arms of Supermarine keeper Harvey Rivers.

On 42 minutes the Millers should have been level when full back Sam Elkins went on a run down the right and hit an effort just wide of the near post.

Just a minute into the second half Swindon extended their lead when a cross was sent in to defender Ashley Taylor on the edge of the area, who controlled an effort past Leigh keeper James Foster's near post.

Leigh proceeded to control the midfield following the setback but could not break down a tough Swindon defence.

Williams, George Seacole and Jamie Cook were brought on in the last few minutes for the Millers and on 87 minutes, Williams scored on his home debut.

The ex-Didcot midfielder rose highest from a McNish cross to head home into the back of the net.

The goal galvanised the Millers but they couldn't beat Rivers for a second time and trudged off to their second successive defeat.

The result leaves them sitting in sixth in the Southern League Division One South and West.
